„Are women in architecture
[IN]VISIBLE?“

WOMEN ARCHITECTS is non -profit, professional organization that supports and promotes women in architecture and related professions. The Women Architects association was founded by architect Andrea Klimko in 2013.

The primary goal of WA is to advance the status of women working in the built environment by increasing the visibility of women in architecture, guiding and encouraging women to consider a career in architecture, removing or reducing as many barriers as possible and networking for job placement and career advancement.

We provide a unique way for women to connect with one another no matter where they are in their career and no matter which forms of architecture they are practicing or pursuing.
